

Reykjavik Bar Summit is looking for you!

Reykjavik Bar Summit is an annual three day event for bars from North America and Europe to gather and compete on a neutral ground in Iceland. The festival is a celebration for the bar community and it is an event where the two continents Europe and North America can meet, battle it out, mingle, party and get inspired. World's best bars were handpicked for Reykjavik Bar Summit 2015 and each of them are sending a team of two to attend.

The Reykjavík Bar Summit is a non-profit event and to be able to hold such an event we are reaching out for volunteers. We need hands to help out with many aspects of this event and in return volunteers will be able to attend partys and events at Reykjavik Bar Summit.

If you are interested in the bar community this event is a perfect platform for you to take part in and strengthen your international network. We encourage you to visit our website for further information regarding the event and the bars that are competing. Please apply as a volunteer by sending an e-mail to summit@reykjavikbarsummit.com
